Department of Modern Languages and Literature (<https://cas.umw.edu/modernlanguages/>)

The French minor is designed to provide the student with an advanced level of language proficiency augmented by a basic knowledge and familiarity with the cultures and literatures of France and the francophone world. In addition to the minor's required French language classes or their equivalents, students are able to select 300- and 400-level courses in francophone culture, literature, and applied language. Students may also include FREN 491, FREN 492, and three credits of FREN 499 as part of their minor programs. Approved French courses from study abroad programs may also be included among the electives of the French minor.
